

U.S. SUGAR POLICY: A NO-COST SUCCESS STORY

- » Sugar policy gives American farmers a chance against subsidies in 110 countries.
- » U.S. policy is based on government loans to producers to store sugar for customers, not subsidy checks. After the sugar is sold, the loans are repaid to the government with interest. It's designed to cost $0.
- » America will end its no-cost program when other countries stop subsidizing.
- » Congressman Ted Yoho's bipartisan Zero-for-Zero Sugar Policy — H.Con.Res. 7 — is common-sense legislation that will offer true global free-market reform.

If sugar is not profitable, farmers lose more than our farms. We lose our businesses, our investments, and our local economies. A strong no-cost sugar policy supports our families and our communities by giving us an opportunity to survive against foreign subsidies. ”
